

Still Looking to Hire IT Talent?

There has been a talent shortage has made finding that perfect expert nearly impossible. Even if you do hire someone, keeping them engaged long-term is a constant struggle against recruiters luring them away.

Not to mention, one person can only do so much. What happens if they get sick or take leave - will your business be left exposed?

Rather than spinning your wheels in the hiring process, I have a better solution: outsource to an MSSP like us instead.

As specialists, our team is trained far beyond what any individual could achieve alone. And we absorb 100% of training, retention, and other staffing costs so you don't have to.

We have written a short eBook about it called: "Bridging the Cybersecurity Skills Gap: How MSSPs Can Protect Your Business" at <https://ITDefenses.com>

Have a look, and let us know if you like the idea.
